

IMPORTANT: READ CAREFULLY

This Acceptable Use Policy ("AUP") defines activities and content that are prohibited pertaining to QuoVadis managed security services with a view to ensuring the integrity, security, reliability, and privacy of QuoVadis' network, systems, services, hosting facilities, and data contained therein.

The examples listed in this AUP are not exhaustive. QuoVadis reserves the right to remove any content or to restrict the use of the services for activities or content that, in QuoVadis' reasonable judgment, violate the terms or conditions under which QuoVadis provides the services or violate this AUP.

QuoVadis reserves the right to modify, amend, or change this policy, from time to time. Reports of violations of this AUP should be directed to compliance@quovadis.bm.

QuoVadis customers are solely responsible for the content and messages that they post, distribute, or otherwise make available using QuoVadis services. QuoVadis reserves the right, where feasible, to implement technical mechanisms to prevent a prohibited use.

Prohibited uses include using the service or permitting others to use or attempt to the service in a manner that, in QuoVadis' reasonable judgment, is a use of the service:

- (a) To violate any law or regulation of any applicable jurisdiction, including, without limitation, laws governing advertising, alcohol, antitrust, child protection, drugs, encryption, exportation, food, financial services, firearms, gambling, importation, information systems, intellectual property, obscenity, privacy, securities, telecommunications and tobacco;
- (b) To commit a tortious or otherwise wrongful act, including, without limitation, the posting or communication of libelous, defamatory, scandalous, threatening, harassing, or private information without the permission of the person(s) involved, or posting content that is likely to cause emotional distress, whether through content, frequency, or size;
- (c) To engage in or to facilitate gambling activities;
- (d) To post, send, or receive any content that is obscene, pornographic, or excessively violent;
- (e) To offer, solicit, sell, buy, rent, or license any goods, products, services, or information in, from, or to any location in which such activity is unlawful;
- (f) To post, send, receive, display, distribute, or execute any content that violates any copyright, right of publicity, patent, trademark, service mark, trade name, mask work, trade secret or other intellectual property right of others;
- (g) To violate the terms of applicable software licensing agreements;
- (h) To obtain or attempt to obtain unauthorized access, such as attempting to circumvent or circumventing any authentication or other security feature of any system, network, or account. This includes accessing data not intended for the user, logging into a server or account the user is not authorized to access, or probing the security of any system, network, or account;
- (i) To interfere or attempt to interfere with service to any user, host, or network by use of any program, script, command, or otherwise. This includes "denial of service" attacks, "flooding" of networks, deliberate attempts to overload a service or to burden excessively a service's resources, and attempts to "crash" a host;
- (j) To introduce viruses, worms, harmful code and/or Trojan horses;
- (k) To send or post unsolicited messages or e-mail, whether commercial or not, a) to any recipients who have requested that messages not be sent to them, or b) to a large number of recipients, including users, newsgroups, or bulletin boards, at one time;
- (l) To send or post a message or e-mail with deceptive, absent, or forged header or sender identification information;
- (m) To propagate chain letters and pyramid schemes, whether or not the recipient wishes to receive such communications;
- (n) To advocate, promote, or otherwise encourage violence against any government, organization, group, individual or property, or to provide instruction, information, or assistance in causing or carrying out such violence; and
- (o) To resell QuoVadis' services, in whole or in part, to any entity or individual, without QuoVadis' prior written consent, or to misrepresent your relationship with QuoVadis.
